2,000 "Oneita" Combination Suits at a Mere Pittance.

Another lucky purchase where money was needed by the manufacturer. Whenever cash plays the leading part we are booked by the mill man, the importer and the jobber for that attraction. There isn't anything in the line of merchandise which is sold under the roof of the Busy Corner too large in quantity to buy if price concessions are low enough. Here are three plums in Underwear which we have plucked for you at half and even less than half of what they are really worth, thus giving our trade every possible chance to gather one of the best bargains of the season without the least effort or strain on the purse.

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING OF MISS RILEY AND LIEUT, BENHAM.

The Wilkes-Moore Marriage at St

A charming bride and a most interesting wedding party distinguished the marriage at noon today at St. Thomas' Church of Miss Elizabeth Riley and Lieut, Henry K. Benham, U. S. N. The chancel was set with palms and white blossoms adorned the altar. Rev. Mr. Aspinwall performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large concourse of friends, the older Washington families being especially well represented. The ushers, who were kept busy seating the guests until close to the noon hour, included Capt. Hobson of Merrimac fame; Lieut. Mark Bristol, Lieut. McCormick, Lieut. Cleland Davies, Lieut. Bassett and Lieut. De Stieger. They were their uniforms, as did the groom and his best man, Lieut. A. H. Robertson.

The attractive young bride came in church with her brother, Mr. Robinson Riley, and was attended by her sister, Miss Ida Riley. The bridal gown was of white satin, trimmed profusely with old lace, heirlooms in the family. Her tulle vell was caught under a cluster of orange blossoms and a diamond crescent, the gift blossoms and a diamond crescent, the gift of her mother. The maid of honor were a stylish combination of light green silk and lace insertions and a white hat.

A wedding breakfast, at which a large party of relatives, home and out-of-town friends were entertained, followed. The young couple stood in a bower of palms to receive the congratulations of the guests. Each of the spacious parlors had a special decoration of flowers and vines. In the dining room the flowers harmonized with the elegant arrangement of the table.

The bride is the daughter of the late William R. Riley, in his day one of the best known residents of this city. Mrs. Riley and Admiral and Mrs. Benham, the parents of Lieut. Benham, were present today to witness the happiness of their children. Last night Admiral and Mrs Benham gave a dinner for the bridal party. After a wedding trip the young couple will reside at the Grafton, as Lieut. Benham is now stationed in this city.

At the marriage tonight of Miss May Imogene Boucher and Mr. Joseph Hall Pilling, which will take place at the resi-dence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boucher, 1306 Columbia road, Miss Alice Pilling will be the maid of honor and Miss Dorothy Boucher will be the flower bearer for her sister. Rev. Father Magee will officiate. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Luber of 831 14th street celebrated their wooden wedding anniversary, when they entertained a num-ber of friends from this city and Baltimore. The Misses Preston of New York gave their annual chantant at Rauscher's yes-terday. It was largely attended and the fashionable audience was pleasantly enter-tained by Miss Rose Antoinette Preston in a Vienna beauty and Spanish dance, Miss Elizabeth Donalson, Miss C. R. Hunt and Mr. William C. Weeden in vocal num-

Miss Louise French, the youngest daughter of Dr. Wm. B. French of Capitol Hill, is slowly convalescing and, it is hoped, will be out again in a few days. Miss French met with an accident and has been confined to the house now for over two months. An informal dance was given at the Confederate Veterans' Hall Friday evening, April 19, by a number of East Washington young men known as the U. Y. B.'s. About twenty-five couples participated in the pleasant affair. The hall was artistically decorated with flags and palms. The floor committee was Messrs. H. F. Severn, C.

Fowler, B. Dement and T. B. Hagan. Dr. and Mrs. Louis Mackall, well-known residents of Georgetown, celebrated last evening the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day by a reception, which was attended by hundreds of their acquaint-ances from all parts of the District and adjoining cities. Their spacious home on Dumbarton avenue was decorated with yellow blossoms and trailing vines, and the beautiful floral tokens sent by friends, Dr. and Mrs. Mackall received in the front parlor, the latter wearing black silk, trim-med with point lace. Miss Mackall, Mrs. Edward Weld, daughters of the couple, and Dr. and Mrs. Louis Mackall, jr., assisted in the hospitalities of the evening with a number of young ladies. An or-chestra played in the hallway. The supper table was gay with yellow tulips and old family silver. Many handsome and

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at St. John's Church at 12 o'clock today. The bride was Miss Lucy Moore, formerly of Beaver Falls, Pa., who has been residing for a short time in this city with her mother, Mrs. Henry R. Moore. She is a graduate of the Woman's Collegiate Institute, Baltimore, and has for the last two years been a resident of Salt Lake City, Utah. The groom was Mr. Charles Wilkes, a prosperous young civil engineer of Salt Lake City. He is a son of Major Edmund Wilkes of the same place, and a grandson of Rear Admiral Charles Wilkes of the United States navy, who rendered such distinguished service who rendered such distinguished service to his country during the late civil war. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Bigelow, first assistant rector of St. John's Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Ellis Bishop of New York city. Dr. Bishop was formerly rector of St, Paul's Church, Salt Lake City, and is an intimate friend of the bride and groom baying come are of the bride and groom, having come on from New York to assist in the marriage of his old friends. On account of the recent death of the groom's brother, Gilbert Wilkes, chief of the Michigan Naval Reserves, formerly of the United States navy, only a few of the more intimate friends were invited, but though very quiet, the wedding was one of the prettiest of the

The ushers were Mr. F. H. Moore, brother of the bride, and Dr. J. D. Irving of the United States geological survey. The decorations of the chancel and altar, The decorations of the chancer and area, which were arranged by the altar society of the church, were especially beautiful and elaborate.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Louise West of Baltimore, who was daintily gowned in white point d'esprit over white taffeta. A large white hat; with a pink rosette and a big bunch of Golden Gate roses, completed her toilet. The best man was Mr. J. M. Boutwell of this city, formerly of Boston, and now of the United States geological survey.

The bride was very handsomely dressed in white liberty satin and chiffon, trimmed with lace. Her tulie vell was held by an onal and pearl pin, the gift of the groom.

with lace. Her tulie vell was held by an opal and pearl pin, the gift of the groom. Her flowers were lilies of the valley. Mrs. Moore, the bride's mother, wore gray silk, trimmed with rose point lace and lavender velvet, and a toque of black and lavender.

The memorial window to Admiral Wilkes in St. John's chancel and the marriage of his grandson beneath it made a pleasing coincidence. As the newly married couple stepped down from the chancel Miss May Wise-mann, a cousin of the bride, scattered May flowers and trailing arbutus over their path. The bride and groom and about twenty-five invited guests drove to Rausch-er's, where the wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes will spend their honeymoon in New York, after which they will leave for Salt Lake City, which missioners of March 22, in regard to replacing the cover over the coal shute in front of 5 B street, Mr. Frank A. Jones, attorney for the owners, states he desires to retain the present frame of the shute, and replace the cover with a new one having a rough surface and lugs on the under side, so as to make it impossible for it to slip from its bearings. This cover says the inspector of buildings, Mr. John B. Brady, would be similar to the one in front of the adjoining premises, and he believes it would be safe. To accord with the present practice of the sewer divis-ion, which was adopted to govern the installation of manhole covers connected with underground electric construction, Mr. D. E. BY HIS PARENTS

Link is gone, but not forgotten; Never shall his memory fade. Sweetest thoughts forever linger Around the grave where he is laid. BY ONE WHO LOVED HIM. M.

TUCKER. In loving remembrance of ELIZABETH E., the beloved wife of DeWitt C. Tucker, who died three years ago today—April 23, 1898,
The old, sweet love, though lost to me,
Can never be effaced;
The happy days with her to me
Can never be replaced.
She was thoughtful, loving, tender,
With us each and every one.
How she suffered, but is now rejoicing;
Her joy in heaven has just begun.
Gone, but never forgotten.
